NOTES from the DEPARTMENT . . .

THIRD HARVEST NEW ENGLAND CONFERENCE TO TAKE PLACE IN MARCH 2011

Agricultural producers from across New England will convene in scenic Sturbridge, Massachusetts, March 1-3, 2011, for Harvest New England Association's third biennial marketing conference and trade show. The theme of the 2011 event is The Expanding New England Farm Enterprise: Reaping More from What We Sow.

This unique conference targets New England farmers interested in learning new marketing techniques and fine-tuning existing business strategies. Over 25 educational sessions will cover a wide range of topics including social media use, funding opportunities, customer relations, value-added products, agritourism, and much more.

Pre-conference workshops on March 1 will include a USDA Good Agricultural Practices (GAP) training and a workshop for farmers' market managers to exchange ideas for effective market management. Keynote speaker, John Stanley, noted as one of the leading perishable retail marketing experts in the world, will offer personalized business assistance through one-on-one meetings on March 1st as well.

Mr. Stanley will deliver the keynote address on March 2. He will explain concepts of profitable merchandising and display for perishable products and will provide practical tips for increasing sales. He will also be conducting two breakout sessions for those who just can't get enough of his knowledge and resources.

On March 3, Vermont farmer Ben Hewitt, author of the The Town that Food Saved, will discuss the incredible potential that farms and producers have to revitalize their communities and keep money circulating locally. As a farmer Ben will share his experiences and give you suggestions on how to go about making an impact in your local community.

A trade show of nearly 100 vendors will run March 2-3 and will provide information on the latest products and services for the agricultural community. Attendees will have ample opportunity to visit the trade show between conference sessions.

The event will be held at the Sturbridge Host Hotel and Conference Center. Over 800 people attended the second conference in February 2009, and even more are expected to turn out in 2011. For a complete schedule or to register, visit www.harvestnewengland.org. Conference registration is $85 per person and $70 for each additional family member or employee. One day registrations, $50 per person, are also available.

The conference and trade show are sponsored by Harvest New England and all six New England State Departments of Agriculture in collaboration with the Cooperative Development Institute, the University of Connecticut Cooperative Extension System, the Federation of Massachusetts Farmers' Markets, the Rhode Island Center for Agricultural Promotion and Education, and the University of New Hampshire Cooperative Extension System.

Questions regarding the conference can be directed to Jaime Smith at the CT Dept of Ag, jaime.smith@ct.gov or 860-713-2559.

NOMINATE YOUR FAVORITE OUTSTANDING YOUNG FARMER!

The Connecticut Agricultural Information Council is accepting nominations for this year's Outstanding Young Farmer. Nationally sponsored by the U.S. Jaycees, the purpose of the Outstanding Young Farmer program is to bring about a greater interest in the farmer, to foster better urban-rural relations through the understanding of agriculture's challenges, to develop an appreciation of their contributions and achievements, and to inform the agribusiness community of the growing urban awareness of farmers' importance and impact on the American economy.

Applications must be postmarked by February 25, 2011.

The winner will be notified in early March and the award will be presented at Ag Day at the Capitol, March 16, 2011.

The application can be found on CT Agricultural Education Foundation, www.ctaef.org.

SPECIALTY FOOD AWARDS COMPETITION

The CT Specialty Food Association's Annual Product Awards Competition will be held on Thursday, 2/17/11, at the Aqua Turf in Plantsville. This year's categories include many that are farm friendly, such as cheese; certified organic product; CT Grown product; CT wine; fruit or vegetable; jam/honey/syrup/sweet topping; meat/pate/fish; and more. Contact Tricia at 860-677-8097 or tricia@ctfoodassociation.org for a complete list of categories, competition guidelines, and/or registration forms. Registration deadline is 2/7/11.

CONNECTICUT NEW FARMER SUMMIT 2011

This February, Connecticut's next generation of farmers are getting together for the first ever CT New Farmer Summit and Young Farmer Mixer. Born from conversations in the field and at the farmers market, a small group of farmers decided to bring our young Connecticut farmers together to create a venue where they can meet peers from across the state. Organic or conventional, first generation or seventh, dairy, meat or vegetable producers; all are invited to this inaugural summit.

The summit is Friday February 11th at the 4-H Education Center at The Auer Farm in Bloomfield from 2-6pm. Following the summit will be a Farmer Mixer and Pizza Social, at the same location from 6-8:30pm. Delicious pizza from Farm to Hearth, local beers and refreshments will be served for a $5 donation.

The summit is designed for young and/or beginning farmers who are currently farming, either operating their own business or as employees of a farm (the USDA defines new farmers as farming less than 10 years and young farmer as 35 years old or younger). Participants in this summit should have at least 2 seasons full-time farm experience and plan to be mostly employed as a farmer in the future.

Registration is required and applications must be received by February 1st. Participants will receive registration confirmation by February 4th. Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis, so you are encouraged to apply early. The registration information provided by applicants will help to steer the conversation and activities for the summit. This event is participant driven and all contributions strengthen the event's objectives.

Online registration is available at http://www.surveymonkey.com/s/CT\_New\_Farmer\_Summit

For a paper copy of this application, please call (860)318-6813 to request one. The Auer Farm site capacity is limited to 50 people.

This summit is generously sponsored by CT NOFA, UCONN Extension, Farm Bureau Young Farmer Committee, Jones Family Farm, Sepe Farm, Farm Credit East, Holcomb Farm CSA, Massaro Farm, Hurricane Farm, and more.

For more information and to get involved contact Shannon Raider at 1(860) 318-6813 or email newctfarmers@gmail.com

This event is in partnership with CT NOFA and is supported by the Beginning Farmer and Rancher Development Program of the National Institute of Food and Agriculture, USDA, Grant # 2010-49400-21847.

THE FARMER'S COW OFFERS WINTER FARM TOUR ON PRESIDENT'S DAY

Lebanon, Connecticut January 24, 2011 – Graywall Farms in Lebanon, one of the members of The Farmer's Cow, will be opening its doors for a winter farm tour on President's Day, February 21. The free event runs from 1p until 3p and will allow visitors to see first-hand how The Farmer's Cow milk is produced, visit the cows in their comfy winter home, learn about farming, and experience all that local agriculture is about.

"This is the second year in a row that we've offered our Winter Farm Tour and it has been extremely popular. Many of the young children across the area have President's Day off and this is a great opportunity for them to learn more about farming and where milk comes from," says Robin Chesmer, managing partner with The Farmer's Cow. "We'll also have some other fun activities planned including samples and, weather permitting, sleigh or carriage rides."

Graywall Farms is located at 49 Chappell Road in Lebanon. The farm tour is free and no reservations are required. For more information and directions to the farm visit www.thefarmerscow.com.

FARMERS' MARKET TOUR TO BE HELD FEBRUARY 6

Do you want to learn about winter farmers' markets, the advantages of growing in the off-season, updates on Crop Insurance for CT Farmers, and more? Come to the Coventry Winter Farmers' Market at Coventry High School, 78 Ripley Hill Road on Sunday February 6 from 10:30am-1pm. Winter Caplanson, Market Organizer, will lead participants on a tour of the market and discuss opportunities for farmers to get involved as winter markets are gaining popularity in the state. If you would like to attend please pre-register by contacting: Joseph Bonelli at the Tolland County Extension Center, 24 Hyde Avenue, Vernon, 06066. Telephone: 860-875-3331, or Email: joseph.bonelli@uconn.edu.

This program is sponsored by: Connecticut Women's Agricultural Network, CT Farm Risk Management, CT Grown and the University of Connecticut College of Agriculture. Visit online at www.ctfarmrisk@uconn.edu or www.ctgrown.gov

USDA TO MEASURE THE FINANCIAL HEALTH OF AMERICAN FARMS

Starting in February the U.S. Department of Agriculture's National Agricultural Statistics Service (NASS) will contact farmers across the nation to conduct the Agricultural Resource Management Survey (ARMS). This survey will provide farmers with an opportunity to provide accurate, real-world data that will help shape the policies, programs, and issues that affect them.

"ARMS asks a small, but representative, sample of farmers about their operation in order to understand the current financial state of U.S. agriculture," said Gary Keough, director of the NASS New England Field Office. "Participation in ARMS is important because government and agricultural leaders use the information to make sound decisions that impact the future of farmers, their families, their businesses, and their communities."

The survey will be conducted during February and March 2011. In an effort to obtain the most accurate data, NASS will reach out to nearly 35,000 producers nationwide, including 600 in New England. Producers will be asked to provide data on their operating expenditures, production costs, and household characteristics.

"Farm organizations, the U.S. Department of Agriculture, other government agencies, members of Congress, and State and local officials use the collective information from ARMS to answer questions and make important decisions concerning the economic viability of American agriculture, the rural economy, and other emerging issues," explained Keough.

As with all NASS surveys, information provided by respondents is confidential by law. NASS safeguards the confidentiality of all responses, ensuring no individual respondent or operation can be identified.

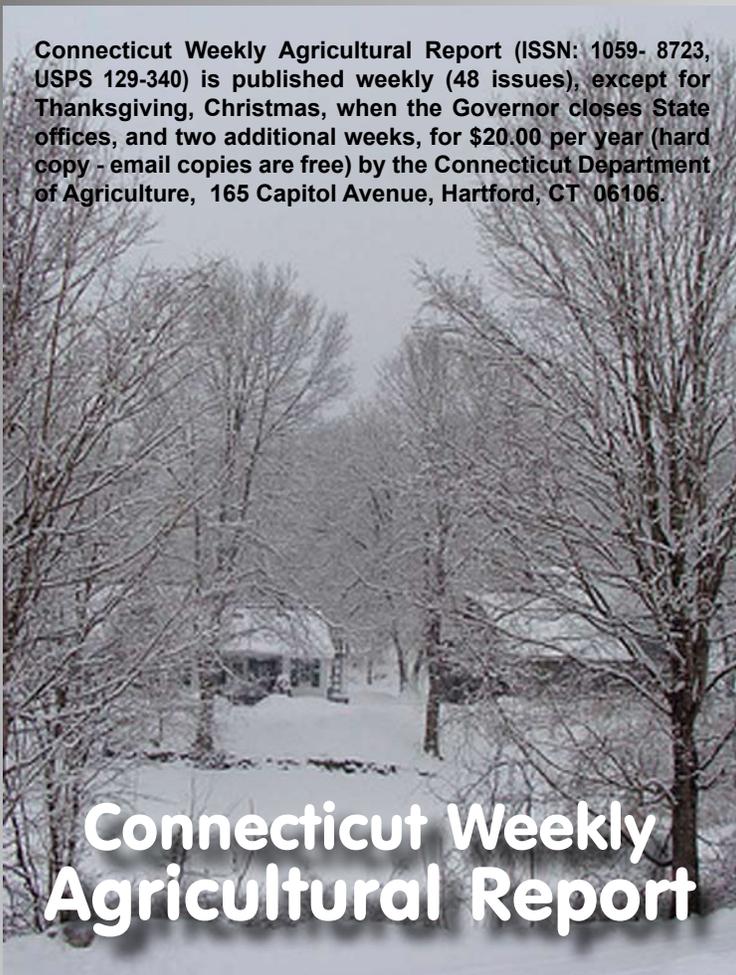

The economic data gathered in ARMS will be published in the annual Farm Production Expenditures report on August 2, 2011. All NASS reports are available online at www.nass.usda.gov.
